THURSDAY, June 27th
1:00PM – 4:30PM
“Development 101”

The world of non-profit fundraising is highly competitive. With the call on donors’ dollars coming from multiple organizations, with a variety of missions, it is more important than ever for non-profits to invest in building a strong development program, that allows them to sustainable and effective in delivering their mission for the long term. The “Development 101” session of this seminar will introduce attendees to trends in philanthropy today, and to the larger development landscape. You will learn about the guiding principles of fundraising, how to fundraise by the rules, the importance and key elements of a development plan, how to build capacity within your organization for a strong and sustainable development program, and ethics in fundraising.

FRIDAY, June 28th
9:00AM – 4:00PM
“Foundations Fundraising & Effective Grantsmanship”

On day two of the Seminar, participants will learn about cultivating and soliciting individual donors and developing annual fund and major gifts programs. We will take an in-depth look into the world of grants, foundations, and what makes a successful proposal package, arming participants with effective strategies for identifying the right foundation prospects and structuring strong and powerful grant requests with clear and effective program/project budgets. Participants will bring with them a cover letter, and a grant request that they are working on, to develop further, at the end of this session.

No development program can be successful without the appropriate research resources – for foundations and well as individuals. Day two will also focus on resources that are available to non-profit boards and staff – both free and for a fee. We will take a look at the Foundation Directory Online and how to use this resource to identify potential foundation funders, and will also learn about federal and state funding programs – finding the right sources, writing the grants, and managing reporting.

ANGELA REED, Community Partnerships Coordinator, Texas Historical Commission
Angela Reed is the Community Partnerships Coordinator for the THC’s Historic Sites Division, where she consults local Friends Groups that support the agency’s 22 State Historic Sites as they navigate fundraising initiatives, board development, 501(c)3 requirements, agency Memorandum of Agreements and Fiscal Sponsorship Agreements. With more than 15 years’ experience working in both the nonprofit and state government sectors, primarily with historic resources, Angela has enjoyed the opportunity to wear many hats in the development arena; because as it turns out, the humanities can always use more money. Angela’s work experience includes serving as Development Manager for the Friends of THC, Grant Writer for the historic Paramount Theater and Austin Theater Alliance, Program Manager and Interim Executive Director for Preservation Austin, Historian for CCC Parks of the Historic Sites Program - Texas Parks and Wildlife, and Field Coordinator for Volunteers for Educational & Social Services. She also currently volunteers as Board Chair of the local nonprofit, Partners for Educational, Agricultural and Sustainability (PEAS) and serves on the Historic Resources Committee of the South River City Neighborhood Association. Angela holds a Master’s in humanities with a focus in history from New York University, and a Bachelor’s in sociology from St. Edward’s University.
